Re: Teleglobe Communications Corporation, et al. v. BCE Inc., et al. C.A. No.
04-CV-1266

Dear Chad:

Reference is made to your letter, dated February 22, 2005, regarding our production of February 18, 2005. Please find attached the index of approximately 250 boxes of Teleglobe-related documents that BCE collected in 2002. Please note that the index is not completely up to date.

Also attached, as described in Daniel Schimmel's email to Mr. Cochran, dated February 11, 2005, is a list of the 37 custodians matched with the servers, if any, on which their data is located.

The documents identified on the Rule 2004 privilege log produced to the Committee, as well as the privilege log produced on February 18, 2005, identify all of the documents within Defendants' possession, custody and control that are responsive to the Debtors' document requests and have been withheld from production on privilege and/or work product grounds. No documents have been withheld on grounds other than the attorney-client privilege or the work-product doctrine, but we expressly reserve our right to withhold any documents on any other legitimate grounds as the circumstances require.

Very truly yours,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Piret Loone". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first name "Piret" and last name "Loone" clearly distinguishable.

Piret Loone
